The Irritec Group

The Irritec Group, born in Sicily in 1974, among the leading companies in the field of smart irrigation. Irritec's mission is to improve the efficiency of irrigation in agriculture and gardening, reducing the environmental impact. Water scarcity and growing food demand all over the world require the use of drip irrigation, of which Irritec is a global reference point. Irritec designs, manufactures and distributes products and complete systems for irrigation in the open field, in greenhouses and for the residential sector. With 12 plants and about 800 employees, Irritec has production and commercial sites in Italy, Spain, Mexico, Brazil, the United States, Algeria, Germany and Chile. In its commitment to eco-sustainability, the company has launched the Green Fields project, which encourages farmers to dispose of plastic products properly after use, ensuring a second life. An initiative that has made Irritec an excellence of circular economy. Innovation and sustainability have earned numerous international awards to a company that caters to growers, distributors and retailers, always aiming for the best results while preserving the most precious asset on the planet, water.
